

historica

ESTONIAN OIL SHALE: SCIENCE AND INDUSTRY THROUGH AGES
The exhibition in Tallinn 20.01–01.03.2004

Editor-in-chief of OIL SHALE
A. Raukas and vice-minister of the Ministry of Environment
O. Tammemäe open the exposition

Numerous Estonian oil shale scientists, engineers
and economic specialists gathered to open the exhibition

Stands expose the technologies of oil shale processing as well as numerous publications

Member of the Estonian Academy of Sciences M. Veiderma

The journal OIL SHALE is being published in Tallinn since 1984

The exhibition mentioned above views geology, mining, oil and oil shale industry, cement production, power engineering, and environmental problems. It exposes oil shale samples from numerous countries, fossils, posters, information, and special literature.

A selection of paintings and photos from the collection of oil shale processing enterprises and oil shale museums is submitted as well. A little test on children's knowledge on oil shale and a corresponding contest were announced in schools in order to increase the pupils' interest in the subject. Visitors from Tallinn and all over Estonia found their way to the exhibition hall.

Aili KOGERMAN
Curator of the exhibition